A CONFERENCE AND MEETING CLASSIFICATION

Are you looking for a meeting- or conference accommodation of which you want to know in advance the quality offered? With the "Congres- en Vergaderclassificatie" (The conference and meeting quality rating) you can easily verify the level of services/quality that a particular meeting-/conference facility offers on the basis of a rating from 1 till 5 hammers. Equal to the Hotel 'Star' rating system. The objective of "Congres- en Vergaderclassificatie" can be summarized in three goals: increasing the quality and professionalism of the industry, distinguishing companies that have proven themselves and promote transparency towards the customer.

The Netherlands has many meeting- or conference facilities. It is in the interests of clients and the market for meeting accommodations, to become transparent. Who offers which quality and meets the requirements of capacity, accessibility, comfort and so on. The "Congres- en Vergaderclassificatie" is an excellent way to gain insight into what companies offer and is objective. A qualified Convention organization agency (also called Professional Congress Organizer, PCO) is an independent company, specialized in the organization of (inter)national conventions and meetings on a professional basis. They supply high quality service and belong to the top in their field of expertise; they are audited on a regular basis by external inspectors.

Apart from that, the conditions are regularly tightened and extended to meet changing demands, react to information from clients and to keep up with technological developments. Qualified convention organization agencies are explicitly in the forefront of the sector with high-grade service in the field of corporate meetings.

Only if a company meets all strict demands is it allowed to use the predicate 'Erkend Congresbedrijf' (qualified convention agency). Qualified convention organization agencies offer clients a great deal of consistency in every aspect. The preparation, the organization and management on the day of the event, the conclusion, clients can be sure that the event passes off without a hitch.
